

About our KEYNOTE Marisa Kwiatkowski

Marisa Kwiatkowski is a reporter for The Indianapolis Star whose most recent contributions on the USA Gymnastics/Larry Nassar scandal has earned her and her team national attention.

She focuses mostly on investigative journalism, concentrating on issues such as social services, child abuse and neglect and poverty, elder abuse, human trafficking, domestic violence and mental health.

According to The Indianapolis Star, she has earned more than 40 journalism awards, including Indiana Journalist of the Year and the Will Rogers Humanitarian Award.

Originally from Michigan, Marissa started her career by working for The Times of Northwest Indiana and media outlets in South Carolina and Michigan. She is president of the Indiana Professional Chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists and vice president of Girls on the Run of Central Indiana.