The deadline for newspaper entries is Monday, Aug. 20, 2018. All entries must be from the 2017-2018 school year. There's no limit to number of entries per school except for the overall online and social media categories. Each submission is $5.

2018 Newspaper Harvey Categories

Best Overall Social Media Presence: To determine publications that are most active and engaging on the social media sites Twitter, Instagram, Facebook, Snapchat, etc. Good feeds would cover current events of the school and maintain a strong example of journalistic integrity. Submit up to three URLs or username handles. Entry limit per school: 1

Overall Online Presence: Enter the URL of the online newspaper's website. Entry limit per school: 1

Online Multimedia Story: Enter the URL of a multimedia story that covers a feature, news or sports using some combination of video or photo and audio or print to tell the story.

Sports Photo: Send PDF or JPEG of a photo and the page where it appears that portrays dramatic action and/or emotion of an athletic event.

Photojournalism Portfolio: Send three PDF or JPEG photos and the pages where they appear by the same student. They should have captions that display a range of subject matter with each print telling a story.

News Writing: Send PDF of a news story on the page on which it was published that demonstrates journalistic writing style, reporting skills and objectivity. The subject does not have to be school related, but it should have an angle that interests high school readers.

Editorial Writing: Send a PDF of an opinion article on the page on which it was published. It should not have a byline but have been written by the staff. It should focus on specifics rather than generalizations of an issue.

Column Writing: Send a PDF on the page on which it was published of a column that has a byline. It can be a review, sports topic or general observation about an issue. It can reflect the writer's personal feelings. It should have thoughtful analysis and tangible evidence to support the position.

Sports Writing: Send a PDF on the page on which it was published of an advance, follow-up, summary or feature story related to individual, team or recreational sports. The story doesn't have to be about a sport at the high school, but it should relate to the high school reader's athletic interests.

Feature Writing: Send a PDF of a feature story on the page on which it was published that demonstrates creativity, variety and human interest. Angles can vary; entries can include in-depth features and personality profiles.

Advertising: Send a PDF of an ad on the page on which it was published. It can incorporate the advertiser's professional logo but must be designed by a student to sell an idea, product, or service to a high school audience. Criteria for judging include artistic design and persuasive appeal.

Infographics: Send a PDF of a graphic on the page on which it was published that compiles information from a story that is better communicated through art, charts, graphs, photo illustrations or other forms of visual communication.

Cartoon: Send a PDF of a single panel editorial cartoon or a comic strip on the page on which it was published that helps emphasize editorial content and is appealing/entertaining to a high school reader.

Page Design: Send a PDF of a single page or two-page spread that reflects visual impact as a story package and a sense of purpose for the best design to display coverage.

Maestro Package: Send a PDF of a story package that reflects collaboration of three or more staff members (reporters, photographers, artists or page designers). Coverage should be a multi-angled approach to an event or issue.

Civic Journalism: Send PDF or PDF package that covers an issue beyond reporting to possible solution(s). A single story or multiple stories may be submitted to show ongoing concern or effort.

Community Leadership: Send PDF package that shows newspaper leadership for the school or community. Entry should include a 250-300 word statement explaining the editorial position taken by the staff and at least one letter of support from a school official or community leader.
